Eric Ndivo

IT Support Specialist || Software Developer || Backend Developer
Nairobi County, Kenya

Summary

Software Engineer with a focus on backend development with Python and Django. I design and develop web applications for both individuals and corporations. I further structure and build APIs using the Django Restframework as a standard in relation to Django Framework

I value teamwork and team contributions to the codebase, and as a result, I've worked remotely with IT teams and partners to deploy effective technical solutions to pressing issues.
